

Driving Privilege Card

BACKGROUND

In 1999, Rep. David Ure (R-Dagget, Morgan, Rich, Summit, Wasatch) sponsored HB36 - Driver License Identification. This law allows individuals to utilize their individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN) issued by the Internal Revenue Services as identification to obtain a driver license.

In 2005, Senator Curtis Bramble (R-Utah) sponsored SB227 - Public Safety Driving and Identification Card Amendments, which requires the Driver License Division to issue a Driving Privilege Card only to applicants who meet all requirements for a regular driver license with the exception of receiving a Social Security number.

This card is utilized for driving purposes only and is not valid for identification purposes with any governmental entity.

A "Driving Privilege Card" issued or renewed expires each year on the birth date of the applicant.

On March 8, 2005, Governor Jon M. Huntsman, Jr., signed SB227 - Public Safety Driving Privilege Card into law.

Since the passage of SB227 (March 2005), a total of 20,731 driving privilege cards have been issued.

Currently, the State of Utah allows ALL state residents to be legally trained, tested, licensed, insured and traceable drivers as an effort to ensure public safety on Utah roads.

2006 LEGISLATION

This year, Rep. Glenn Donnelson (R-Weber) is sponsoring HB64 - Driver License Qualification Amendments to repeal the driving privilege card.

FEDERAL LEGISLATION

In May 2005, President George W. Bush signed the H.R. 1268 Emergency Supplemental Appropriation Act for Defense, the Global War on Terror, and Tsunami Relief, 2005.

This law includes Title II - Improved Security for Drivers' Licenses and Personal Identification Cards, which outlines in detail the federal regulations for driver licenses, temporary driver licenses and identification cards for non-citizens or nationals of the United States. In relation to Utah's compliance, some components of the REAL ID Act would be in place with the passage of SB227.
